The Virginia student body is by no means downcast over Saturday's results. All feel that the contest was no real test of the team's atrength, as it was simply impossible for Todd to shine on such a myddy gridfron.

The single touchdown made by Georgetown was on a fluke, and all the Blue and Gray deserved was the goal from field by Costello.

This thing of continually harping on eligibility rules is like fighting wind-mills. Eligibility rules are mighty good things to have hanging around the house, and without a very nearly uniform set of rules telling just what me are entitled to play on the various teams, the standard of college sames would be considerably lowered. But to prevent alumnt, or even students in college, from attempting to influence athletically inclined and prospective collegians, toward their institution, is going to be just as successful as attempting to dain the Atlantic Goean.

Of the contest.

Thursday the two local medical colleges will get together for their annual encounter. From the dope as it written, it appears that there is written, it appears that there is greatly appeared to be a said disappoint of the cleven representing that institution is doomed to defent.

Richmond College has just one more chance to retrieve itself for the disastrous season. Randolph-Macon will lamtic Goean.

Georgetown easily and then the ques-tion of eligibility rules tailed to cut quite so much figure. Naturally the defeat of last Saturday rankles, but defeat of last Saturday rankles, but Virginia has nothing to feel ashamed of. The Orange and Blue put up the gamest sort of fight against tremendous odds, and even though Georgetown had slightly the better team, had cottoin preventable errors not have been made, the showing would have been been even better, with a possible victory. By the time the season of 1912 rolls around all of these things will have been forgotten, and Georgetown and Virginia will battle again on the gridiron.

Institution is doomed to defeat.

Richmond College has just one more chance to retrieve itself for the disastrous season. Randolph-Macon will be tackled in the final game of the season. Unless the collegians can score in this encounter they will have the unique distinction of going through an entire season without having scored a single point. This is by far the poorest showing the Spiders have ever made. But they have had poor seasons before and have yet managed to muster enough strength to down the Yellow Jackets. They may repeat the trick this year. Maybe.

NO FEAR FOR MISSIONARIES

Cleveland, O., November 20.—Friends and relatives in Cleveland of missionaries in China say they have no fear for their safety in that land of present revolution. A number of Cleveland men and women are in that field, some of them in the very territory that is chiefly affected by the disorders. Their friends, however, and encouragement in the view that the troubles are purely factional, and not anti-Christian.

Rev. Dan F. Bradley, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational Church, said

Plymouth Congregational Church, said to-day that the Boxer uprising was the only one which missionaries had to fear, and that there was no great peril in the present unrest. Neither Mr. Bradley nor others who have sent workers to China join in the view of American Minister Calhoun that the situation is a threatening one for situation is a threatening one missionaries.

WOULD LENGTHEN COURSE

Proposed to Give Six Years at Columbia to Engineering Students.

New York, November 20.—President Nicholas Murray Butler, of Columbia University, has recommended to the tees the lengthening of all courses in engineering from four to six years, the idea being to elevate the engineering degrees to the plane of law and medicine. The change will go into effect beginning July, 1914.

The chief argument used against the present four-year course is that the curriculum is taken up wholly with engineering subjects and a student does not got a chance at any of the general cultural courses. By the new plan engineering students will spend their first time trees.

dr. Russell, the American minister to Santo Domingo, is at present in this country on leave of absence, and the secretary, Mr. Endicott, is acting as charge.

Lacking further information, it is presumed here that Caceres has fallen a victim to one of the characteristic plots. It is known that Caceres's administration, which has now lasted four years, an almost unprecedented in Dominican history, has very recently been disturbed by several well defined revolutionary plots.

Last April Caceres became convinced that a formidable movement was afoot looking to his overthrow, headed by General Carlos F. Morales, who had preceded him in the presidency of Santo Domingo, and Mauriclo Jimenez, former Vice-President of the republic.

General Zenon Toridie, a veteran soldier of the Dominician army, had also cast in his lot with Morales and Jimenez, and the three had arranged to launch an expedition from Porto Rico, when they were suddenly arrested by the local authorities there on a charge of violation of the neutrality lawa After several months' detention
